Land Owners Soon Vote on New District

Randall County land owners will vote soon on the creation of a proposed Soil Conservation District. The State Soil Conservation Board has called the election for Saturday, Sept. 25, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m.

This election was called in response to a petition by landowners for a hearing on the proposition of creating a district. Landowners present at two hearings in Canyon this summer expressed themselves as favoring a district and then determined the district boundaries.

The proposed district includes all of Randall county and a small portion of Potter county. Potter county area is a narrow strip of irrigated farms in southwest Potter County.

In the September 25th election all persons who hold title to farm or ranch lands lying within the district, who have attained the age of 21 years, and reside within the county; who own land within a county any part of which is included in the district, is eligible to vote. Wives are also eligible voters.

Before a district can be organized two-thirds or more of the voters participating in the election must vote in favor of a district.

Purpose of a district is to work on the problem of soil and water conservation. The district is governed by five elected land owners who are bona fide farmers or ranchers. This board of supervisors co-ordinate the soil and water conservation work and can call on all organized agencies to help. The district is a self governing unit established under state law. It is not a federal organization. A district does not have power of taxation.

Voting boxes shall be at Ralph Switch, Hollywood, Umbarger, and Bushland.

Red Cross Plans Meeting Tuesday

A meeting of county Red Cross officials will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 21, at 7:30 o'clock in City Hall. Principal purpose of the meeting is to elect new officers to take over Red Cross work for the coming year. Most of the officials now serving have been working with the Red Cross for a number of years.

T. A. Black, Randall county chairman for the Red Cross, has served in this capacity two years. Also serving two years is the fund raising chairman, Truitt McGregor. These are only two of the positions that will be re-assigned Tuesday night.

"All of the local Red Cross officials and all other citizens interested in this vital work should be present for this meeting," Mr. Black said. He pointed out that this type of work is highly important to the community and at the same time he explained the importance of different people working in this capacity.

City Park Ideal For Scout Camp

"A city park with an amphitheater would be an ideal spot for the annual Boy Scout Camporee," commented one of the Boy Scout workers this week. Sometimes in the near future the Scouts will be holding their camporee here and a lot of parents will be interested in the activities of these youngsters but watching those activities will be quite a problem.

The Camporee program is one that has met with considerable success here. Dr. Charles Nester is district chairman of Boy Scouts and has been active in helping arrange this program. One problem consistently faced is that of providing a comfortable place for the parents to sit and watch activities of the Scouts who compete for honors.

Such a place would be provided in an ideal manner in the amphitheater of the proposed park. There would be such other facilities for the boys in a well lighted area. Then when the boys begin their competitive works they could assemble in the amphitheater while their parents were comfortably seated to watch the activities.

One of the Scout workers added that the Scouts and Camporee program were only two of the many projects which the proposed city park could provide. It could also be used for such things as the summer theater, baseball ground for city leagues in summer, and numerous other things.

New Faculty Members Named For New Year

They include Miss Louise Hume, Amarillo, instructor in business administration; John R. Petry, instructor in Bible, Baptist Chair, and director of the Baptist Student Center; and Ray Franks, instructor in journalism and director of sports news.

Miss Hume, 1604 Pierce, formerly was an accountant at Seale-Amerson Lumber Company. A graduate of Amarillo High School and Amarillo College, Miss Hume worked a year in the budget department at the University of California.

Petry succeeds Howard Bramlette, who resigned to become assistant to the director of student work of the Baptist General Convention in Dallas. Holding the B.A. and M.S. degrees from Hardin-Simmons, Petry earned his B.D. degree at Southwestern Seminary where he has also done work toward his doctorate. Petry was youth pastor at the University Baptist Church in Abilene, and formerly was assistant to Dr. Kyle M. Yates, pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Houston. This summer he was a field representative for Hardin-Simmons.

A graduate of Evansville College, Evansville, Ind., Franks holds the B.A. degree. He has had five years of newspaper experience in both general and sports reporting. Inducted into the Air Force in 1950, Franks has served more than three years at Amarillo Air Base, where he has been editor of the Amarillo Jet Journal. Sale of Bonds Will Be Pushed in Randall During Balance of Year

A "Put-Texas-Over-The-Top 1954 Savings Bonds Drive" during the remainder of the year will be carried on vigorously in an effort to reach the state's 1954 quota of $199,300,000.

"While purchases of Savings Bonds have increased so far this year, the rate of increase during the past eight months has not been sufficient to reach the goal and an all-out effort is needed during the remainder of 1954. "Texas always does its part and needs to do it again this year," is report of State Chairman Nathan Adams.

Importance of the Savings Bonds program to each individual, every community, the state and the nation is being stressed by the volunteer Texas Advisory Committee for U. S. Savings Bonds, the chairman emphasized. Governor Allan Shivers is honorary chairman. State Chairman is Nathan Adams, dean of Texas bankers and honorary board chairman, First National Bank of Dallas, while the co-chairman is Ed Gossett, Dallas, prominent attorney and former Texas congressman.

"Savings Bonds now have a most vital place in our country's sound money and financial program," the county chairman said. "They are an investment that is absolutely safe and one which guarantees the full principal, plus three per cent interest compounded semi-annually when held to maturity. They can readily be converted to cash anytime to meet an emergency, or for some planned project. Each individual is permitted to buy up to $20,000 Series E and $20,000 Series H Bonds per year."

The county chairman urges that everyone buy more Savings Bonds during October, November and December to help "Put-Texas-Over-The-Top" in 1954.

Draws 35 Years In Rape Case

Dempsey Blackwell was found guilty of rape and assault on an Amarillo high school girl in Randall county late Thursday afternoon and was assessed 35 years in the penitentiary.

The case was tried in District Court, starting Tuesday morning. A special venire of 220 men was notified to be present to hear the case. Not all of the jurymen were called to the witness stand to qualify.

All but two of the jurors were selected by Tuesday night. The other two were selected Wednesday morning, and taking of testimony started.

The case went to the jury Wednesday afternoon following reading of the charge and arguments by the attorneys.

The jury was out about two hours before reaching the verdict and assessing penalty of 35 years in the penitentiary.

Republican Women To Visit LaMaster In Amarillo Thurs.

The "Election Express" — a cross country tour of 20 selected members of the National Federation of Republican Women — will reach Amarillo on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 16. The women, who say they are a "traveling laboratory to analyze front-porch political feeling," will be guests of the Amarillo Republican Women's Club at a dinner Thursday night, in the Herring Hotel.

With Mrs. Richard Simpson, wife of Congressman Simpson, (Penn.) in command, the chartered bus left Washington, D. C., on September 10th. Following the trails of the old covered wagons through the Midwestern States, the "Election Express" is on its way to the 8th Biennial Convention of the National Federation of Republican Women, in Los Angeles, Sept. 22-23. During their trip, the members will secure first-hand information about the political issues deemed most important to housewives, mothers, and employed women.

Building Permits High For August

Building permits in Canyon totaled $56,742 for the month of August, one of the largest totals of any summer month on record. As a general rule building is greater in the spring and autumn months and drops off in hot summer months and cold winter months.

This summer building has continued rather steadily. Ten permits were issued with three of them being for residences, three for garages, two additions to residences, one for remodeling a house and one for a church.

The permits were issued rather evenly throughout the month. Builders started arriving early at City Hall and continued throughout the remainder of the month in a steady manner. A permit was issued August 4 and final permit was issued August 31.

Foreign Students Spend Week at Plank Residence

Two exchange students from Okinawa have been visiting for the past week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Plank, three miles west of town. The two visitors are Shigeo Oshiro and Isamu Shimoji who had worked with Miss Esther Plank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Plank, when she was on Okinawa. Miss Plank spent about two years on Okinawa as director of the Naha Cultural Center.

The Center is a part of the progressive educational department under the Civil Service Administration. When she was there Isamu Shimoji was her interpreter. Shigeo and Isamu both happily explained that their homeland is now under the jurisdiction of the United States.

Oshiro was also an interpreter and assistant librarian. He is attending George Peabody College at Nashville, Tenn. He plans to study library science. Isamu Shimoji is attending Oberlin College at Oberlin, Ohio.

During their stay here the two students enjoyed an extensive trip about the Plains area. They were amazed at the huge expanse of land and large fields. They said that on their island home most of the farming included such products as sweet potatoes, rice, tomatoes, and various other truck crops. The fields in their homeland are small, whereas here they saw the breath-taking large fields which stretch as far as the eye can see.

Not all of the stay here was pleasant for both of the boys. Isamu Shimoji had a touch of tonsilitis which kept him confined for several days. But even this dark cloud had its silver lining as he enjoyed the friendship of Dr. R. A. Neblett. He enjoyed the doctor's treatment so much that he would not leave for school Saturday without going by to say goodbye to him.

Miss Esther Plank could not be with the boys when they left for school as she had already been called to her new job in New Jersey. It was only a few days before the boys departed for their respective schools that she had to leave for New Jersey where she will work in a supervisory capacity for the state.

Shivers Group Wins Seats at State Meeting

The Pro-Shivers group from Randall county won the contest Monday at Mineral Wells before the credentials committee of the State Democratic Convention, and participated in the Tuesday's convention.

J. Evetts Haley represented the county before the credentials committee, speaking in favor of Governor Shivers. Robert Bruce of South Amarillo represented the Yarborough delegation.

The State Credentials Committee upheld the ruling of the County Convention when the delegation from Precinct No. 9 was unseated because the precinct had not been legally divided under the terms of the State Law; that no precinct convention was held in No. 10, which was a pro-Shivers group; that that precinct convention held in No. 9 had not legally invoked the unit rule for the county convention.

The testimony offered by both Haley and Bruce was a rehash of the charges and counter-charges which were made before the county convention in Canyon, and had been published in both The Canyon News and the Amarillo News. The Mineral Wells convention was covered by David Rasco of the Amarillo News.

While the State Chairman had sent out warning to the delegations last Wednesday that hotel and convention hall seating would be limited, a large group represented Randall county and other counties of the State in the State convention held in Mineral Wells.

Governor Shivers was in control of the State Convention, and was given a heavy endorsement of his administration.

Lawrence Hagy was re-elected 31st district committeeman from the Panhandle.

J. Evetts Haley, Jr., was elected a member of the new credentials committee; Hosea Foster will be a member of the nominations committee; Earl O'Keefe of Box 10 was chairman of the district caucus.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dowd spent last week-end in Waco visiting her parents.

Mrs. E. A. Oberst, Sr., is seriously ill at her home.

Two Men Are Held Charge of Rape 14 Youth

Two painters from Hereford, who are brothers, are in jail to face a charge of rape on an Amarillo girl, 14 years of age, Saturday night.

Sheriff L. S. Johnston arrested the last of the pair Tuesday morning, bringing him to Canyon. His brother was in the Potter county jail on the same charge.

One of the men is married and his wife may be charged in the same offense.

Mr. Johnston said that the case will be presented to the Grand Jury when it meets. The men are being held in the absence of bond. The men state that they are from a South Plains town, but had been in Hereford only a short time painting on the new high school building.

The 14 year old victim admitted that she had been drinking with the men, as was the wife of one of the men. A local doctor who examined her found that she was scratched and bruised about the body, and that she had engaged in intercourse.

If the men are indicted, this will be the second rape case to be tried in District Court here in the course of a few weeks.

Highway South Is Narrower

The State Highway Commission has changed its ruling in the width of the right-of-way demanded for Highway 87 south from Canyon.

Instead of demanding a 250 foot highway, the change is now 250 feet from Canyon south to the Santa Fe railroad and 200 feet from that point to the county line, with the exception of the slight change to the Swisher county connection in Happy. The state has built up a high grade at the turn in Happy, and 250 feet is needed to connect with this grade.

The Commissioners Court accepted the new regulations at the meeting Monday. According to Judge Roy Joe Stevens, this construction will be completed with the county issuing a few small warrants.

No action has been taken on the proposed expressway from Canyon to Amarillo. The bond issue for this project was rejected by the voters of Randall county, and no additional election will be held unless a petition is presented for such a bond issue.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Shivers Is on the Upswing; While Yarborough Is Out

Ed Kilman, editor of the Houston Post and a personal friend of the Newsman for 25 years, summed up the recent Texas second primary in the following editorial:

Texas' recent Democratic runoff primary, in which Allan Shivers became the first Governor of the state to crack the two-term tradition, decided more than the election of a Governor. It was a smashing repulse of a terrific mass attempt of "loyalist" liberals and labor union to knock Shivers off his perch as a rising leader of southern conservatives, and to snatch control of the state party from the conservatives for 1956.

Shivers' resounding victory strengthened his influence for conservation, either within the party or for Eisenhower if he runs again in the next presidential race. It was a blow to the national party's liberal bellwethers, who watched the contest closely and put in a few licks against the Texas Governor.

At the 1952 Democratic national convention, Shivers had starred in a coup of southern conservatives which prevented the Moody-Humphrey-Roosevelt-Williams leftist group from clapping an iron-clad loyalty oath upon the Dixie Ike-liking delegations. On top of that, Shivers spearheaded the Democrats-for-Eisenhower drive that put Texas in the GOP column by a whopping margin for the second time since Reconstruction.

For this defection and his soaring conservative potency, the "loyalists" sought to clip his political wing at the shoulders. They thought his party truancy and his running for an unprecedented third term made him doubly vulnerable—as to a considerable degree they did. So they mobilized for the most savage assault that has been made on a candidate in Texas in decades.

Throughout the campaign, Shivers cried out that the fight against him was masterminded, powered and largely financed by outside CIO leadership and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He charged that all radical hues from pale pink to deep red were aligned against him. (Last spring he sponsored the most drastic anti-Communist state law now in effect).

This summer's primary results indicated that something unusual had happened to give the "loyalists" new driving force since 1952, when Shivers rolled up a majority of nearly a half a million votes over Ralph Yarborough, an Austin lawyer, after a phlegmatic campaign. Two years later, the same Yarborough loosened an atomic attack, and in the July primary he cut that vast majority down to a mere 23,750-vote plurality and forced the Governor into a runoff. Yarborough scored overwhelmingly in industrial areas with a large union vote, and the heavy Negro vote went almost solidly for him.

Seeing in Shivers' close squeak an excellent chance of defeating him, Yarborough returned to the fray in the runoff with redoubled fury.

Some American political oracles, viewing the Texas primary results from afar, interpreted them as evidence that the Lone Star State was caught up in a southern liberal current—a "retreat" from the GOP flood tide of 1952 as exemplified by the primary victories of Kefauver in Tennessee, Scott in North Carolina, and Sparkman in Alabama.

But it wasn't that. Texas didn't go Republican two years ago; she went for Eisenhower, and probably will go again.

What happened was this: The conservatives, remembering Governor Shivers' landslide victory over Yarborough in 1952, and unaware or heedless of the supercharged Yarborough offensive this year, simply were caught napping in overconfidence. They made virtually no campaign and neglected to vote by the hundreds of thousands.

The July primary returns jolted them awake. They got busy, and the results showed up in the Aug. 28 runoff. Although second primary balloting usually is light, this one topped the July total by 200,000 votes and gave Shivers a 92,000 majority. This is a fairly good batting average in Texas. But for the third-term handicap, Shivers' 1952 defection, Yarborough's hurricane of personal attacks on him, and other state and local issues, his majority might well have been as great as that of two years ago.

Now, Yarborough, after two defeats for Governor and one for Attorney General, is a dead duck politically, as Shivers would have been had he lost. But Shivers' light is shining more brightly than ever, and his voice will carry renewed prestige in southern conservative council in 1956.

Politics Will Swing to the Capital of the United States

The balance of the States will have their share of politics as the November elections draw near. Texas has had enough politics to last for a considerable length of time.

Speaker of the House in Congress and the Vice President are tuned up to carry the ball for the Republicans as the campaign progresses.

President Eisenhower is anxious for the Republicans to have a safe majority in Congress during the balance of his administration. If he succeeds in electing a Congress favorable to his platform, Eisenhower would not be handicapped as he has been during his first two years in office.

But is this the way out?

Is not the President better off to hold a small majority in Congress than to be handicapped with a heavy majority?

He passed about 87% of the bills which he determined as essential to the welfare of the nation. We cannot see how he could have fared much better than he has so far. At least he can blame the Democrats for having blocked his program as the matter now stands; and with a heavy majority in Congress, the President would have no alibi.

When the President sticks out his neck, as Eisenhower has done, it is well to have a scapegoat present, and in this instance the Democratic forces were standing in the near background, looking toward those 20 years of uninterrupted rule, with Congress a rubber stamp during the frustrating years of the depression, drouth and World War II.

The experts who said no one would ever run a four-minute mile recently saw two runners crack that time in the same race, which proves that the human race marches on.

Those who find it difficult to get down to work in the summer usually find it difficult to get down to work in spring, autumn and fall, too.

Insurance Is on the Increase Over the Entire Nation

Many Americans do not realize the tremendous increase in the life insurance business which has occurred since the end of World War II. Recent figures show that life insurance in force climbed from $122,000,000,000 in 1941 to $304,000,000,000 at the beginning of 1954.

Moreover, the number of life insurance companies has increased by more than 300, and some 24,000,000 new policy-holders have been added to company lists.

It is now estimated that 79 per cent of all families in this country own some type of life insurance and that seven per cent of these families put ten per cent of their disposable income into insurance premiums.

Life insurance seems to be the most popular in the State of Delaware, where insurance in force per family averages $9,100. Connecticut ranks next with $8,200, and New Jersey third with $8,000.

Mississippi families, meanwhile, have only $2,400 on the average and Arkansas only $2,700. In addition to the increase in life insurance, group insurance and all forms of insurance have increased sharply since World War II.

The rise in insurance reflects the rise in prosperity in the United States in the last 13 years, and is a healthy condition for both the national economy and the insurance companies earning profits on this business. The most encouraging thing is the establishment of 300 new insurance companies, many of them in sections where insurance companies were a rarity only a few decades ago.

Negroes and Whites Are Both Making a Mess of Segregation

As we view the situation, both Whites and Negroes are making themselves ridiculous in the demand for immediate relaxation of segregation in Texas.

Here we have the University of Texas. A Negro was at first granted freshman admission, and now he is rejected on the ground that there are two Negro institutions in Texas giving the work which the Negro wished to take. This may be true, but it is likewise true that the Negro schools in Texas are not equal to those provided for the Whites.

Now comes the case of Dallas where 100 grade Negro children are demanding admission to White schools on the grounds that their school was opened during the summer and closed as cotton picking time hit Texas. Members of the school board in Dallas declare that this arrangement was made upon application of Negro parents who wished to provide work for their children in the cotton fields.

Negro parents say that the situation was started a few years back by White farmers who wanted more help during cotton picking time.

Thank goodness Canyon has no Negroes to furnish us headaches either now or any other time of the year.

We are sure that neither the Whites or Blacks, if we had any Blacks in Canyon, would be any more agreeable to mix and mingle than they are in other parts of the State.

'Communism Must Be Destroyed' Is True Today as It Was in Past

The more we read and hear of Red propaganda, the firmer we are convinced that Communism and the Free World cannot live side by side peaceably.

The Reds are determined to make slaves out of all free people of the world. They are not satisfied to rule by remote control, as they have carried on their wars, but must dictate from Moscow what each nation which is overrun by the Reds shall do or think.

The Canyon News is not proposing World War III; which would be the war to finish civilization. But we cannot see how we can continue much longer to give the Reds their own way, and at the same time continue to live peaceably with them.

The Reds have won every battle in which the two nations have been engaged. They are the crazy, cocky nation which promises to sweep everything before it. A lot of folks are convinced that the Reds are not as bad as they have been pictured, but just let them once get the upper hand and such people will find out what confronts him.

Using an expression which J. C. Phillips of the Borger News has long used: "The Communists must be destroyed." He stops right there, and did not stutter when he first used this expression, and certainly has not stuttered during the months which he has used this expression in print.

There are any number of people who could run the nation's foreign policy better than President Eisenhower, but, fortunately, they are not in the White House and he is.

One of the greatest compliments one can pay the American people is that they can sit through some of the current movies without a murmur.

Bucking the crowd, as Churchill says, is not for most people, but it pays off in the later years of life, for conscientious people.

The nation finally has a unified aid defense command which we see as a major step forward, in view of world conditions.

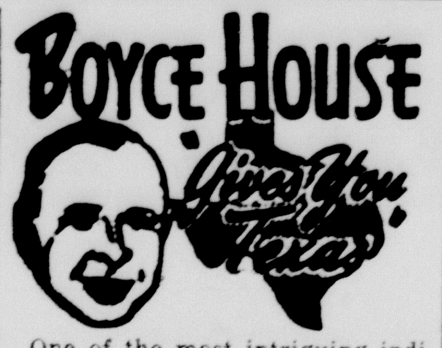
As far as we know, there is no town in the United States that admits it has a bad climate.

Politeness is a virtue that seems to be on the wane these days.



One of the most intriguing individuals in the book giving the history of Menard County, by N. H. Pierce and entitled "The Free State of Missouri" was Louis Carlin, a Frenchman, whose story is told by Mrs. Lovena Hanson Brown, who was a little girl when she met the Parisian.

Carlin had acquired an immense ranch—this was about 1879—and had constructed a ranch house which was a show-place, about seven miles from Menardville, as Menard was then called. The ranch extended over into Schleicher and Sutton counties. He was immensely wealthy and had left France because of political disturbances. He went first to Australia, where he studied the methods of sheep ranching, then came to West Texas.

Mrs. Brown's mother became manager of the Carlin household and so she and her little daughter moved into the big ranch house, which was just back of the fine two-story home in which Carlin and his pretty wife, a former actress, lived. The Frenchman had a private secretary and his wife had a maid from Paris, as well as nearly a dozen servants.

Fifty to 70 cowboys and ranch employes ate in the big dining hall in the house behind the mansion.

The Carlins lived in luxury. They brought fine foods from Paris, including canned vegetables and dried fruits, which of course were great luxuries on the frontier, and they had champagne. They owned the first porcela in bath-tubs in the history of Menard County. Every other year, or oftener, the Carlins went back to Paris and while they were gone, people came to see the fine bathtubs.

The house was fitted in overstuffed furniture from France.

There were gorgeous Christmas parties to which the children were invited. When Mrs. Brown was eight, she went to Fredericksburg to attend school and it was not long afterward that the Carlins went to Paris, never to return. For, back in France, Carlin killed an actress, then turned the revolver on himself.

And so came to a tragic end the story of the rich Parisian who built a mansion in the wilderness of West Texas some three-quarters of a century ago.

Keene, Texas, a town founded by Seventh Day Adventists in 1890, is said to be the only community in the United States where the post office is open on Sunday.

QUESTION

Have you, as a parent, finally yielded to small-fry pressure and purchased a box of Kokonut Kwicks, the breakfast food of the mighty? Have you torn off the box top (sides and bottom not accepted) and enclosed 15 cents (no stamps, please), forwarded it to Kokonut Kwicks, Box 000, New York, for the magnificent, multicolored plastic seven-tube, air-cooled, wristwatch G-man radio receiver with built-in audibility, combined with an automatic double-tone, phonograph — with RECORDS? You haven't? Then you have neither small fry nor a radio!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There are indications many are puzzled by some campaign oratory being released in November election warm up.

* * *

Most confusing appears to be commonly used assertion to justify anything and everything that "we must not forget we are now THE world power."

C.W. Harder

* * *

Yet many people are analyzing this oft - repeated claim. Since days of the Caesars there have been many world powers. Yet in each era, the world power represented a bastion which was accorded world wide respect. But never in history has any nation become the world power, or maintained that position by playing Santa Claus every day of the year, year after year.

* * *

From the Napoleonic Wars until 1914, England was the world power. And with the exception of a little brawl with the Boers, England maintained that position without fighting anybody. In addition, she maintained it without charity, for the sun has yet to set on day England gives away as much as a shilling.

* * *

So today's peculiar happenings provoke many questions.

* * *

As example there is recent transaction of Foreign Operations Administration, chief dispenser of American billions to practically every country, Communist Yugoslavia included. In this particular transaction, it was decided U. S. taxpayers would give the railroad system of India 100 locomotives.

* * *

Two things meet the eye immediately. One is that India's boss man, Nehru, is on record as not being too annoyed by Communists; in fact many feel he is quite friendly. The second point is that the Indian railroad system is a government operated socialistic venture.

* * *

Also in line with New Look in shovelling American taxpayers billions to world in form of goods, everybody was invited to bid on building the locomotives.

* * *

Successful bidder was Japan Rolling Stock Exporter Association, part of Japanese cartel system that reappeared after General Douglas MacArthur was recalled. This cartel bid $81,470 each, less than half the lowest American bid of $178,200 each.

* * *

Japanese cartel gets the business. American business and labor which pays the taxes, receive nothing. Thus American free enterprise system is taxed to pay cartel to produce goods for use of socialistic operation with communist sympathies.

* * *

Other fantastic manipulations are being revealed in Washington. For example, Paul Kermick, chief investigator for Senate Appropriations Committee headed by Sen. Styles Bridges, has filed report to effect U. S. taxpayers are paying heavily to build up a British aircraft monopoly under guise of defense necessity.

* * *

Meanwhile there appears tendency to yawn whenever a campaign speaker defends extortion of U. S. taxpayers as necesary because U. S. is now THE world power. Many feel situation is similar to that which would exist if a bank embarked on a campaign to become community's leading bank by giving away money to any and all comers with free hand.

A Tribute To American Legion

Valor, said one of the great philosophers, is something lightly remembered. Is that true here in this town? We don't think so. We remember. We remember the faces and figures of our boys who marched away for World War I and our lads who donned uniforms for World War II. The American Legion is a fraternity of these men who, when the occasion arose, took up arms in our defense. Do they remember? Most certainly. They remember everything they and their buddies went through . . . and now with their regular meetings at the Post, they glory in the fact that they constitute one of the greatest, most influential forces for good in our nation. All hail our heroes who proudly wore the Blue and the Khaki!

Only three home games will be played this year, with Midwestern coming on Oct. 2 and Trinity University of San Antonio on Nov. 6.

The team showed up well in the first scrimmage with the Amarillo Air Base Friday night.

Pedestrians Are Often To Blame For Accidents

"A pedestrian who disregards signs of life often is breaking the law." Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, emphasized this point today in speaking in connection with the "Signs of Life" traffic safety program being conducted this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety, and the National Safety Council.

"Pedestrians killed in traffic," he said, "often have been crossing at intersections against the signal, crossing intersections diagonally, or crossing between intersections.

"All these actions are violations of the law," he pointed out, "and usually are covered by signs of life.

"One out of four traffic victims is a pedestrian," he said, "and more than half the people killed in city traffic are pedestrians.

"Certainly many deaths could be avoided if pedestrians crossed streets at the proper places, and obeyed traffic signs of life where they are provided."

It's a mistake to think that signs of life are for the motorists only, according to Col. Tilley. Actually, they're intended to guide and protect pedestrians as well.

"Both drivers and pedestrians," he said, "will do well to heed the slogan of the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council, 'Know Your Signs of Life'."

You'll Relish Hamburgers Even More When You Use Relishes

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

ALMOST everyone likes hamburgers. And they taste even better with these easy-to-prepare special relishes.

Mayonnaise Pickle Relish
(Makes 1 cup)

One-half cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, ½ cup sweet pickle relish, 2 teaspoons grated onion, freshly ground pepper to taste. In a small bowl or a jar, combine mayonnaise or salad dressing with remaining ingredients; blend well. Cover and keep in the refrigerator until time to serve with hamburgers.

Mustard Mayonnaise
(Makes 1 cup)

One-half cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, ½ cup prepared mustard, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish.

In a small bowl or a jar, combine mayonnaise or salad dressing with remaining ingredients; blend well. Cover and keep in the refrigerator until time to serve with hamburgers.

* * *

Ever hear of Catch-a-Fellow Salad? It's quite a dish—whether or not it catches a fellow.

Catch-a-Fellow Salad
(Serves 6)

Six hard-cooked eggs, chopped; ½ cup finely chopped celery, ½ cup finely chopped pimento, 2 tablespoons chopped, green onion; 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, 6 large tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste, crisp salad greens.

In a bowl, combine eggs, celery, pimento, onion, mustard and mayonnaise or salad dressing; mix thoroughly. Cover and chill several hours.

For each salad, turn the tomato stem end down and cut into quarters, not quite through. Spread tomato quarters out a little on the crisp salad green and spoon egg salad mixture into the tomato roses. Or cut each tomato crosswise, into 3 slices.

Arrange the largest tomato slice on the crisp salad greens. Top with egg salad mixture, then with second tomato slice, egg salad mixture and remaining tomato slice.

Hamburgers, the any-time, any-place treat nearly everyone enjoys, acquire enhanced taste appeal when served with relishes.

AND WAS HIS FACE RED

In the congregation of an Oak Park church during Sunday morning service was a young bride, whose husband was an usher. Becoming terribly worried about having left the roast in the oven, she wrote a note to her husband, sending it to him by another usher.

The latter, thinking it was a note for the pastor, hurried down the aisle and laid it on the pulpit. Stopping abruptly in the middle of his sermon to read the note, the astonished pastor was met with this written injunction:

"Please go home and turn off the gas."

DIDN'T WAIT TO FIND OUT

A ventriloquist attended a negro funeral unknown to the mourners. Afterwards, one of them told another what had happened at the cemetery.

"You won't believe it, Mose," the narrator said, still wild-eyed, "but when dey begins to lowah Joe in his grave, he says, 'Lemme down easy, boys.'"

"And did dey finish burying him?"

"Man, Ah don't know. Ah didn't stay."

EASIEST WAY

Two broom vendors met in a London street.

"'And it all," said one, "I don't see 'ow you can sell these ere bloomin' brooms for a shillin.' I steals the brush, and I steals the wire, and I steals the 'andles, and I can't sell 'em for a shillin' and make money on 'em."

"Why I steals 'em ready made."

"Just a simple twist of the wrist washes and drys our clothes!"
says: MRS. WARREN M. BARTON
1814 Boyd St. • Borger, Texas

"My husband is a mechanic, and has dirty, greasy clothes every day. And, of course, Janna Lynn, my five-months-old daughter, has to have clothes washed every day."

"It's so easy with an automatic washer and a dryer — especially the dryer. I can come home from work, and throw the dirty clothes in the washer, and then dry them that very evening, ready to be worn the next day."

"We have our washer and dryer in our garage now. Sometime soon, we'll have a laundry room. But I just had to have a dryer, and it works out fine in the garage."

"Convenience is important to me—time, too—as I am also employed outside the home. I have plenty of time to spend with Janna Lynn in the evening, after washing and drying my clothes with a simple twist of the wrist."

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN: Texas' conservatives, with a champion in Governor Allan Shivers, are now looking confidently toward the September 14 state Democratic convention at Mineral Wells.

Control of the convention is already assured the Governor by July precinct and county conventions which were largely captured by the state's conservative element.

In the Mineral Wells move to set up a solid conservative state organization for the next two years, Shivers is expected to:

1. Name a successor to Wright Morrow, conservative Democratic National Committeeman who has been denied a seat by the national committee. Morrow had agreed to step, but the state organization refused his resignation.

2. Lend impetus to the move by conservative elements to replace liberal Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell with someone acceptable to Dixie and Southwestern conservatives. Mitchell has agreed to resign after the November 2 election.

With primary emphasis on healing the split in the national Democratic Party, one question has come to the fore.

That is whether Texas conservatives will fight the renomination of Adlai Stevenson, who appears to be the only top Democratic contender for the presidency, in 1956.

Stevenson lost the Texas vote in 1952, largely because of his views on states rights and the Texas tidelands.

Republican Claims

Texas Republicans, claiming credit for the re-election of Shivers, asked for a show of appreciation.

Jack Porter of Houston, Texas GOP chief, asked Democrats to vote for LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster of Perryton as congressman for the 18th district in the November general election.

"There is no doubt whatever but that the Republicans of Texas pulled Governor Shivers through," said Porter. "We are calling on Democrats . . . to return the favor."

New Judges

Shivers will appoint, sometime after September 14, an associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court and 10 new district judges.

Appointed to fill the position of the late Associate Justice Graham B. Smedley during the remainder of 1954 will probably be the same person nominated by the state executive committee September 13 for the job.

The name will then go on the November 2 ballot, as the Democratic nominee for the post, which is a 1955-59 term.

Highway Award

Highest safety award presented by the National Safety Council has gone to the Texas Highway Department.

The Award of Honor is given for accident prevention achievement. Of 905 eligible organizations, only 12 received the pat-on-the-back.

Drouth Help

Four more Texas counties have been recommended for the state-federal drouth program by Governor Allan Shivers.

Drouth relief was asked to be extended to ranchers and farmers of Brazos, Dickens, Kent, and Montague Counties. Seventy-five have previously been approved for the aid.

Broadfoot to Retire

Called from retirement five months ago to replace District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin in George Parr's South Texas kingdom, Judge A. S. Broadfoot has again announced his retirement.

Judge Broadfoot, of Bonham, was chosen by the Supreme Court after Judge Laughlin was removed. His 79th District Court includes Starr, Brooks, and Duval Counties.

Indications are, however, that Judge Laughlin may soon be back at his old bench. He has successfully campaigned for Democratic renomination for the two years remaining on his term.

Until his assumed return to the bench January 1, Governor Allan Shivers or the Supreme Court Chief Justice will appoint a successor to Judge Broadfoot.

Business Record

Texas business may break all previous records this year.

Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, says his prediction will be true if the remainder of 1954 looks like the first seven months.

Stockton reported that Texas' business for the first seven months was the highest of any year's similar period.

School Increase

A 22.5 increase in state public school attendance is forecast by a school survey, just completed.

The 308,000 daily jump in numbers of students was predicted by the Texas Research League, now preparing research reports of the Gilmer-Aiken financing program for the State Board of Education.

Enrollment in the school year ended last June was 1,569,000, the league reported.

Liquor Revenue

July revenue of the Texas Liquor Control Board climbed $35,000 over the July, 1953, mark, the Board's report shows.

Here Are Delicious Ways to Prepare Broilers and Fryers

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

THE Department of Agriculture reports that unusually large supplies of broiler-fryer chickens are now on the market. So let's take advantage of the lower prices

Here's a wonderful version of that world-famous taste treat, Hungarian chicken paprikas:

Chicken Paprikas
(Serves 4)

One-quarter pound salt pork, diced; 1 broiler fryer (3 to 3½-pound ready-to-cook weight), cut in serving pieces; flour, 1 tablespoon red (Hungarian) paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup Tokay wine or soup stock, 1 cup sour cream, 1 cup heavy cream, 3 medium onions.

Preheat electric skillet or heavy iron skillet Place diced pork in skillet and fry for 10 minutes, turning frequently Meanwhile, dredge chicken with flour Blend seasonings into wine or stock and mix with cream Shred onions

When pork cubes are glazy and slightly brown, add chicken and brown well on all sides (about 10 to 15 minutes) Add onions, stir lightly; pour ⅔ of cream mixture over chicken and blend carefully Cover skillet; turn heat low and cook for 20 minutes

Add remaining cream mixture, cover and cook until chicken is tender (about 15 to 20 minutes) Sprinkle with paprika before serving Serve with broad egg noodles

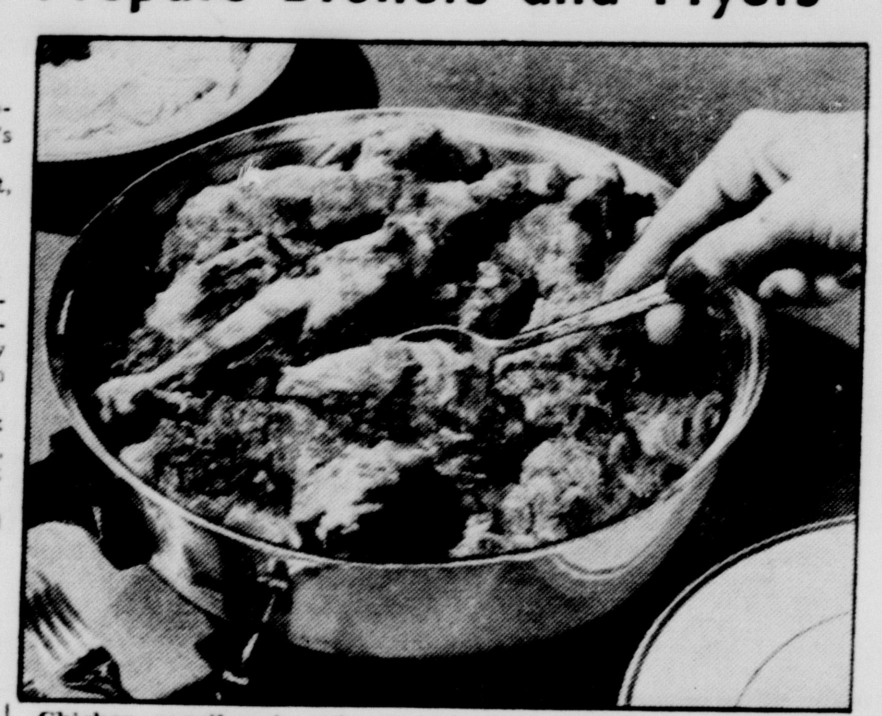
If you enjoy the flavor of curry here's a good recipe for you

Curry Broiled Chicken
(Serves 2 to 3)

Two and one-half to 3½-pound broiling chicken, salt and pepper, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted, ½ to ¾ teaspoon curry powder, paprika.

Have butcher split chickens in half. Remove neck and backbone. Season inside and out with salt and pepper. Combine butter and curry With a pastry brush, coat chicken pieces on both sides with butter Sprinkle lightly with paprika

Place in flat, shallow pan 6 inches from flame. Start chicken cooking skin side down. Broil 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden brown and tender Continue brushing with the butter mixture. Turn and broil 10 minutes longer.



Chicken paprikas is only one of many zestful ways to serve fryers and broilers now in abundant supply.

Legal Problems In Purchase of Many New Homes

With "National Home Week" being observed September 19-26 many people will be thinking at least casually about the purchase of a new home. Those who become seriously interested should proceed cautiously when making a deal, as many important legal problems are involved in such a transaction.

For the average person, the buying of a home is the largest single transaction of his life. It is also, in most instances, the most permanent or longest term investment he will ever make. Whether or not he bought wisely will be determined by his ability to resell without difficulty, or to enjoy the use of the premises without annoyance or interruption.

Possibly the first legal problem you will meet will be when you are asked by the seller or his agent to sign a contract of sale or earnest money contract. In connection with the latter, you will be asked to deposit a sum of money which would be forfeited to the seller and agent for damages in event you do not fulfill the contract. Although no forfeit money may be required with the former, you may still be legally liable for damages if you renege. Be sure, therefore, that you know exactly what your obligations are.

The next legal problem would probably be to determine the status of the title to the property. Many persons become confused during this stage, thinking that securing possession of an Abstract or Title Insurance Policy will afford them complete protection against title defects. This is not necessarily true in either case.

Keep in mind that an abstract is merely an outline of public records on the tract. Any person may purchase an abstract covering any piece of land, whether he owns it or not. A Title Insurance Policy indemnifies you only up to a certain maximum sum of money, and contains various exceptions to the specified coverage.

Following this would be the problem of transferring the title from the legal owner to you, as purchaser, in such manner that no legal question might later arise concerning your sole and exclusive ownership.

Incidental to your title problems is that of ascertaining what restrictions exist upon the lot you are buying and upon the neighborhood generally. Municipal zoning ordinances and restrictive covenants placed upon the tract by previous owners or developers of the subdivision may prove a protection or a hindrance, according to the plans you may have for future use or improvement of your property.

Other legal questions may arise in arranging the method of payment for the house. The fact that most people need years in which to complete such payment makes this a matter to be considered carefully.

These are some of the major legal problems you are likely to encounter in purchasing a home. Of course, a number of others may arise in some cases due to peculiar individual circumstances.

Frank Barnhill put forth a valiant effort to win the 13 year old back stroke. Although he lost the troop was proud of him because he had never done the racing back stroke before.

Bill Dreiss was alternate on the trip. Bill was not needed, so he yelled for the swimmers.

Explorer Post 66 tied for third place with 29 points with Post 2 of Amarillo. Only three Explorers of Post 66 swam. They were James Young, Alan Hanks, and Raymond Haddock. Post 13 of Amarillo won with 60 points and Post 5 was second with 36 points.

STRIKES

Strikes were on the increase in July, but the total was lower than usual, according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. There were an estimated 575 strikes in effect during July, including 375 new stoppages and 200 carried over from June, when the total was 550. However, the July strike total was lower than in any corresponding month since 1950 and below the 1947-1949 average for July.

JOBLESS PAY

The Bureau of Employment Security has announced that fewer people insured against unemployment were reported out of work in the first week of August than in almost a year. Initial claims for jobless compensation dropped 16,500 to 225,000 for the week ended August 14—the fifth straight week of decline and the lowest level since last October.

PLAIN TALK

The famous artist's likeness of the magnate's wife did not please the wealthy one. Remonstrating with the artist, he complained: "Why, you've got the plainest woman I've ever seen on that canvas."

"Maybe so," replied the painter, "but if you wanted me to paint a peach, why did you bring me a lemon?"

Around the Town . .

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

Three women represented Randall county at the State Home Demonstration Club meeting held in Dallas at the Adolphus Hotel. These were Mrs. Donald Olson, Mrs. Blain L. Hufnagle, and Mrs. H. H. Shipman.

There are 15 Home Demonstration Clubs in Randall County and each of these women will report to five of the clubs. All three speak highly of the meeting.

Mrs. Donald Olson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Foster, 1009 Third Ave., and mother of three small children: Mark, six years old; Jamie, four years old; and Chris, two years old. She said that to her the outstanding speaker of the meeting was Lisa Sergio, a naturalized citizen of U. S., born in Italy. She was the daughter of an American mother and an Italian baron. Miss Sergio had served as Mussolini's private interpreter until she broke with him, escaped from Italy with the help of Marconi and came to America.

Miss Sergio said: "The home is the cornerstone of freedom. A nation is only as strong as its homes." That she believed "Juvenile delinquency, through all the countries that were involved in World War II, is the most serious problem of our post war time." She also said: "I believe women make less fuss about assuming responsibilities than men; do their work quietly; and so get less credit for what they do."

Mrs. Blain L. Hufnagle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Plaster, 710 Seventh Ave., and mother of two small children: Ronnie, six years old, and Kathy, five years old.

She was also impressed with the talk given by Miss Sergio who is commentator, journalist, and lecturer on world affairs. Mrs. Hufnagle quoted Miss Sergio saying: "The source of America's power is its people, not the atom bomb. We must develop children conscious of leadership, if the country is to remain free from communist infiltration. Communists have built up strength by raising their children according to a certain pattern of philosophy and education, while America has forgotten to teach its children the virtues on which this country was founded. American children are not equipped to face the future generation. Most of their thoughts are of easy and quick ways to make money and they have a what-the-devil attitude toward conditions." "The foundation of policy is in the home, where attitudes are shaped and later carried to school, politics, government and business," she said.

She urged Americans to teach children self-discipline and regard for others' property.

She said, "Americans need to build up a greater interest in foreign service among young people. One needs to know the languages and customs of other countries to be intelligent in dealing with common problems."

Mrs. Hufnagle said this talk by Miss Sergio impressed all 539 delegates from the state and made them realize the importance of civilian defense.

The women voted to establish another 4-H girls college scholarship of $500 to be awarded in 1955.

Mrs. H. H. Shipman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wesley and mother of three children, Jerry, 17 years old, Nan Earyle, 15 years old, and Gene, 12 years old. She said the whole meeting was wonderful and an inspiration which she wished every woman could have had. Mrs. Shipman liked the business-like way the meetings were conducted and enjoyed reports of the other clubs.

Mrs. Shipman liked the talk of Dr. Imogene Bentley, Dean of Women, North Texas State College, on leadership. She quoted Dr. Bentley's definition for a good leader: "His word is as good as his bond. Has reverence for God. Has poise, self control, knows the smile word. Treats others as superior, thinks more of others, is truly friendly, happy, optimistic and has a great faith in God."

All three women were deeply grateful for the opportunity to attend the meeting and are hoping they can pass the inspiration they received on to others.

Thank you Mrs. T. V. Reeves for calling my attention to this.

President Eisenhower has on his desk a Latin motto which freely translated, amounts to, "Speak softly but carry a big stick."

Translated more literally, however, it comes out "Gently in manner, strongly in deed."

More than 2,500 tourists—mostly middle-aged and elderly folk from quiet homes in the United States—have crossed the Arctic circle into northern Alaska this summer.

It would seem elderly folk have learned the joy of travel. Mrs. Ed Harrell said that of the 27 people in their party, most of them were elderly people who had finished their life work and were enjoying travel. She said this was true of all the parties they contacted while in Europe and they were running into other parties all the time, that they saw more Americans than Europeans, while they were gone.

Mrs. Harrell found conditions in Europe much improved from 1950 when she was over. She said that the hotels all had modern bath rooms, which they did not have in 1950, that then most of the hotels had a wash-bowl and pitcher.

Mrs. Harrell said there were many two, three and four story apartment houses being built, many completed and these all had modern baths.

Mrs. Harrell said food was plentiful and good. In 1950 the food was not very good and that they were not able to get meat at all then, but that on this trip meat was plentiful and good. She said that if she ate horse meat she did not know it and that she did not believe she ate any, as she had eaten it and thought she would know it if it was served.

I asked her about horse meat because Pierre Jacquet, the French boy who has been visiting in Canyon, said he preferred horse meat to beef, saying it was much better, more tender and flavorful than beef and that in France they raised a special type of horse for eating, fattening it the same as we do beef.

Mrs. Harrell said that on the larger farms they were using machinery like ours but in many places she saw farmers cutting wheat with a scythe, and that most of the farms were too small to use the large machinery we use on our farms.

As usual Mrs. Harrell has many interesting things to tell, and enjoyed this trip as she always enjoys all of life.

Miss Alice Payne went on the same trip to Europe and will tell of her impressions a little later.

School has started and once again Randall County's most capable corps of teachers takes up the task of making responsible, intelligent citizens of our youth.

Mrs. James P. Cornette, who had the misfortune to break a bone in her heel, is improving and hopes soon to be able to take off the cast she has had to wear. She is on crutches and finds they hamper her a great deal.

A Bostonian says his grandfather, a widower, has married again at 81. "Is it possible for him to become a father again?" he asks. Certainly is. There is a record of a man who at 92 became a father for the 39th time.

"A friend loveth at all times." Prov. 17:17.

"One day 'tis said Miss Barrett went . . . To ask Charles Kingsley what he meant . . . The most to make his life complete . . . And with so many joys replete . . . "Elizabeth, I just depend . . . On this," he said, "I have a friend!" He meant that with the Lord he spoke . . . And that he loved his neighbor folk . . . And life will richer be for you . . . If you love God and neighbors too" —Julien C. Hyer.

Canyon needs a GARDEN CLUB. Everyone seems to want one but no one will make the effort to start one. It would be so nice to exchange ideas and encourage one another.

M. H. Rockwell, who has been ill for some time, is much better now. He is resting at his home north of Canyon.

German-born Julius Lehmann loved America, and he proved it when he left his estate of $70,000, "to the government of the United States of America to which my wife and I are so much indebted for the blessings we have enjoyed as citizens of this country."

Lehmann came to this country 50 years ago and became a prosperous importer. He died at the age of 92.

This was overheard: "She may have all the trouble in the world, but I never saw her break; I never saw her hate anyone; I never saw her lose her faith in God." And that is a very nice thing for one friend to say about another.

I'm glad they have begun giving hurricanes names. It has been fascinating to watch EDNA, from a safe distance, as she has swept her furious and destructive way along the eastern seaboard. Wonder why they named all of them for a woman. Did they have in mind "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned." Wonder who scorned Edna? She has lived up to the saying, but I know several men she could have been named for. At any rate no mere man has been able to stop her in her fury.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Knighton, Genie and Neal returned Monday from Wichita Falls where they have been visiting with Mrs. Knighton's brother and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Dan Sharpley, who are going back to serve as Baptist missionaries in Brazil. The Knightons left three month old Kathy with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Knighton, and these three had the most fun of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry McCarter and children, Kerry, 4, and Sherry, 2, arrived this morning to visit with Mr. McCarter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. McCarter. Barry is an electrical engineer with the N.O.L. in Washington, D. C. They arrived by train and as this is the first train trip the children have taken they are about as excited over the trip as grandfather and grandmother McCarter are over their visit.

Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Hines, who at 211 Fourth Ave., to old-timers this is known as the B. T. Johnson home, raise a wonderful garden. Mrs. Hines cans much from their garden. They have about 300 tomato plants of several varieties, but find Porter's Triumph is best for canning and has the best flavor. The Hines have three children, Sondra, 13, Stephen, 6, and Michael, 1.

Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Masters and daughters, Patricia Ann and Delores Jean, have moved to their new home at 2704 Fifth Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Findley and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. McCarter attended the Constitution Day program of the Esther McCrory Chapter of the D.A.R., which was held at the Children's Home in Amarillo. Judge W. N. Stokes was the speaker for the afternoon.

We are going to miss these young people who have gone away to college: James Russell to Galveston Medical College; George Dowlen to Texas University; Joe Dale White to Texas U., Florence Marie Coffee to Texas U.; Dorothy Elizabeth Neblett to Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo.; Richard Sanders to Texas U.; Bobby Cole to Texas U.; Tommie Gooch to Baylor; Billie Graham to T.C.U.; Bettie Graham to Baylor; Harold Hill Slack to Baylor; Ella Hill to McMurry; James Rigsby to the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky.; Elaine and James Cundiff to Texas U.; Bettie McGehee to Texas Tech; Richard Perkins to A.&M.; J. Wearing a big smile after winning the title of All Around Cowboy at the 10th Annual Boys' Ranch Rodeo on Labor Day is Glenn Clark of Casper, Wyo. Glenn successfully rode a bronc and bull to walk off with the top prizes.

The youngest cowhands in the world staged their famous 10th annual rodeo at America's First Boys' Ranch on Labor Day before a capacity crowd of 5,000.

Spectators watched a thrilled packed show as the little fellows really came out of the chutes to put on an outstanding performance which included bronc riding, calf riding for the smaller boys, bull riding and trick riding and roping. Special features of the show were the All Girl Mounted Quadrille of Amarillo, Stuttering Sam of Tulsa, Okla., and clown acts by Hoyt Hefner and Jack Armstrong, assisted by David Ash of Boys' Ranch.

Winning the trophy and other prizes for the top cowhand of the rodeo was Glenn Clark, 16, of Casper, Wyo., who took first place in the bronc riding and tied in second place with Delmer Miller, 17, of Crosbyton, in the bull riding.

Runner-up for All Around Cowboy was Dave Presley, 15, of Borger, who took third place in the bronc riding and tied Buck Gariepy, also of Borger, for first place in the bull riding. Third in the All Around competition went to Elmer Miller, 17, of Crosbyton, who took second in the bronc riding. Elmer and Delmer, who are twins, also did some fancy trick riding along with Leroy Thrasher and Calloway Queen.

Jimmy Hall, 12, of Sanford, and Billy Huckins, 13, of Amarillo, tied for first place in the junior steer riding division and third place went to Sammie Wright, II, of Spur.

In the senior steer division Jerry Young, of Anthony, N. M., took first place while Gerald Westcott, 13, of Amarillo, and Calloway Queen, 15, of Liberal, Kansas, tied for second and Dickie Shepherd, 15, of Liberal and Eldon Jackson, 14, of Portland, Ore., tied for third.

Plans are being made to have a homecoming next year during the Boys' Ranch Rodeo and the 1,110 ex-Ranchers who are now all over the world will get a chance to visit their home.

Smokers Get Fire Blame

AUSTIN: Smokers were blamed for almost half of Texas' 151 hotel fires in 1953.

Norris W. Parker, manager of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association, said the figures compiled by his organization showed that smoking in bed caused 44 hotel fires last year. Leaving burning cigarettes in ash trays, tossing them into waste baskets and other careless smoking habits accounted for 28 other hotel fires.

Electrical wiring and kitchen grease fires accounted for most of the other hotel fires last year, the insurance trade association said.

Taylor Left For Mineral Wells

Jno. F. Taylor left Saturday for Mineral Wells to attend the Democratic State Convention.

"I stayed with Governor Shivers throughout the bitter campaign and want to be present during his victory in the State Convention," stated Mr. Taylor. While he was not a delegate from Randall county and had no hotel reservation for the convention, this made no difference. "I will stay in some nearby town, going as far away as Dallas if necessary," stated Taylor before leaving.

You can boost yields 5 bushels per acre— with a McCormick® Model M

Grain Drill

Three-year tests at a midwestern agricultural college compared broadcast seeding at the rate of 4 bushels an acre with drilling at the rate of 3 bushels per acre. Results: Average yield of drilled seed was 5.3 bushels per acre more than broadcast seeding!

Here are three reasons why you can get better stands and bigger yields with a McCormick drill: 1. Each of the feeds measures out exactly the same amount of seed; 2. You can regulate the seeding rate within ounces; 3. You can control seeding depth within a fraction of an inch.

We would like to tell you more about the drill and broadcast seeder comparison—and McCormick drills. Stop in when you're in town.

War Seems to Be Nearer as World Tension Increases - - - Spending Up

WASHINGTON: A somber world crisis, putting U. S. policies at the crossroads, is quietly approaching in both Europe and the Far East. The Communists have won the first round — getting France to scuttle the European Defense Treaty organization this country has been pushing for 2½ years.

Now the Red effort is to keep Asian countries from joining in an effective defensive alliance against Chinese aggression in Asia. The usual peace propaganda conceals the Communist purpose — to keep Asia weak and divided — but Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was well aware of the Communist intent at Manila.

The Moscow strategy seems to be to keep Germany unarmed and split into zones, and to keep Asia divided and Japan unarmed. If this succeeds, U. S. efforts will be dealt staggering blows, for the U. S. defense against Communism is based on the assistance of a strong Germany and Japan — traditional enemies of Russia.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany is being outspoken about France's Pierre-Mendes-France these days, and is by-passing Paris in an effort to win sovereignty. At the same time he is telling Washington and London that Mendes-France cannot be counted on to retain power, that he does not have a real majority behind him and that the extreme Nationalists and Communists were responsible for his knifing of the EDC treaty organization.

If London and Washington buy Adenauer's plan, they will okay the re-arming of West Germany without French approval. But this might shake the solidarity of what has been commonly called the Big Three western allies.

In Japan the public is being fed a steady dose of Communist lies —that the United States is seeking to rearm Japan to fight Communism, to fight America's battle in an aggressive scheme against Russia and China. Since the Japanese were enemies of the United States just ten short years ago, and killing our soldiers, this propaganda sometimes plays on old sentiments and takes effect.

Japanese officials are well aware of considerable sentiment in Japan against rearming (just as has been built up in Germany by the Reds) and the test is whether the United States can win the Japanese people over to a strong defense in time dspite the big Communist drive to scare the Japs away from such a course.

It could be that the success or failure of the effort to rearm Germany and Japan holds the key to peace in the next ten years. A Japan and Germany re-armed would hold Russia's hand, but divided and weak, they could temp the Communists before they complete their build up of their forces, especially in China, with the economic and manpower mobilization they are now concentrating on.

Car-makers are hoping to give the nation's economy a boost in the arm with new and highly powerful 1955 cars — which will begin hitting the advertising pages next month. The official sales figure for 1954 is proving disappointing and those who had said the industry would sell 5.5 million cars this year were too optimistic — it is now certain.

The figure is more likely to be just over 5 million — maybe as high as 5.2 million, but not up to 1953 totals. Industry spokesmen are hoping the new lines will prove so popular, sales in 1955 will surpass the 1954-model figure by at least a third of a million units.

The new luxury cars next year are expected to have horsepower ratings up to 250 horsepower, and above, and even the Big Three, in the lower priced field, may have ratings up to and above 150. In addition to more power there will be more body style changes this year than in some years. If this doesn't stir up consumer interest, the industry will have to cut prices, and if that happens, someone won't survive the next three years.

Defense spending is being stepped up to pick business up a bit as fall approaches. The Administration — some weeks ago — urged departments to spend money faster to spur business, and this added to the prospect that defense spending might have to be increased — might help create an upturn by November.

The only trouble with such a policy is that a reaction could result next year — if defense appropriations aren't increased. If the Republicans should ride to victory on a business upturn this fall, which petered out in a few months, the voter might register his disgust in 1956. But right now, all eyes are on 1954. The big drive is to get business perking up in the next 60 days.

Children's Death Has Been Greatly Reduced in Years

AUSTIN: Chances of today's school-age children—5 through 19 —dying of disease have been cut by two-thirds in the past 15 years, a State Health Department statistical summary shows.

Thus, excluding accidents, the readin' writin' rithmetic set has three times as much chance of living to collect high school diplomas than had the class of '38.

State Health Officer Henry A. Holle attributes healthier school life in 1954 to improved environment at home and school, immunization and vaccination programs, improved drug therapy, and education of the lay public on the importance of disease prevention.

One of every 594 school-age children in 1938 died of disease. By 1953 the ratio had been cut to one in 1785.

Parents of Texas one and three-quarter million scholastics can breathe easier knowing that 1953 diphtheria death rates have been reduced to one-tenth of the 1938 rate, influenza and pneumonia to one-sixth, scarlet fever to one-third, and malaria and typhoid fever to a flat zero.

Fifteen years ago, the summary shows, school child deaths from all causes reached 3389, compared with 1698 deaths last year. And enrollment in public schools last year was greater by 70,000 than enrollment in 1938.

"Typhoid fever and malaria are excellent examples of what can be accomplished by simply cleaning up mosquito and fly breeding areas, improving sewage and garbage disposal, and improving housing conditions," Dr. Holle said.

Malaria caused the death of 39 school children in 1938, and typhoid killed 144. Neither disease claimed a single life last year.

Significantly, it was in 1938 that the State Department of Health began operating on its present scale.

The figures concerning accidental deaths aren't as bright as these on disease-produced fatalities. Accidents accounted for only 22.3 percent of all school age deaths in 1938, compared with 46.7 percent in 1953.

Accident prevention programs probably represent the most urgent field for student health education, Dr. Holle believes.

Link Tschudy Company Is Area Leader

The Link Tschudy Co., which is located in Amarillo at 700 N. Fairfield and headed by L. C. Tschudy, has earned the approval and good will of the entire area for their well-directed efforts in providing all-steel buildings for farms and industry, as well as business enterprises throughout this section of the state. As the Panhandle engineering, contracting, fabricating and erecting organization for Butler steel buildings, this firm is providing an answer for quick, permanent and low-cost construction.

Butler steel buildings are approved for grain storage under the government program and with good prospects for a bumper grain crop this fall many farmers and ranchers have taken advantage of this to buy the new steel buildings which in a short time pays for itself. The buildings are ideal for this purpose and are superior to old style storage tanks for many reasons, most important of which is the fact that they are available for other purposes and may be purchased for practically the same cost.

These steel buildings come in standard sizes from 20 to 80 feet in width and may be erected to any desired length in 20 foot sections. They can be built with any desired window and door arrangements.

Under the capable supervision of Mr. Tschudy and his competent staff, many Butler steel buildings have been erected throughout the Panhandle area, and complete customer satisfaction has resulted in a gratifying volume of business to this outstanding concern.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Public Debt

In a previous newsletter, I called to your attention the cash balance that has been carried by the Treasury Department in private banks in this country. This cash balance plus other cash on hand, but not in private banks, has been approximating in recent months around 5½ billion dollars. This simply means that, although the national debt has been somewhere around 274½ billion dollars in recent months, actually the net amount we would be in debt, if we used this cash to pay off part of the public debt, would be some 269 billion dollars.

The Congress recently authorized an additional six billion dollars rise in the debt ceiling which increases the debt ceiling from the present ceiling of 275 billion dollars to 281 billion dollars. I regret to tell you that the public debt has been rising month by month. On June 30, 1952, which was the end of the fiscal year for 1952, the national debt was 259 billion dollars. At that time, we had cash on hand in an amount approximately nine billion dollars.

This meant, that at that time, the net debt would be around 250 billion dollars. On December 31, 1952, the national debt was 267 billion dollars, and we had on hand at that time approximately 6½ billion dollars in cash, which made the net debt somewhere around 261½ billion dollars.

The most recent figures available show that the debt will continue to increase and that securities will be issued to absorb the additional six billion dollars authorized by Congress. Should this be done, it will mean that in the very near future, the national debt will reach an all time high. In other words, a record is in the making. Heretofore, the highest public debt ever reached was on February 28, 1946, at which time the people of this country owed $277,972,315,345.

Government Employees

The monthly reports for July to the Committee on the Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures reflected that there is now in the employment of the Executive Agencies of the Federal Government 2,332,223 employees. This total does not include the major portion of foreign nationals employed in U. S. Government activities abroad.

That is, in addition to the above figure of 2,332,223 civilian employees, your government is also hiring 401,647 foreign nationals working for U. S. Military Agencies overseas. 117,894 of these are in Germany; 172,708 in Japan; 93,880 in Korea; 194 in Libya; 15,911 in Ryukyus; 392 in Saudi Arabia and 668 in Trinidad. 305,094 of these are in the employ of the Army; 76,303 in the Air Force, and 20,250 in the Navy.

The Foreign Situation

This country is presently faced with probably one of the gravest foreign situations since immediately prior to World War II. The key to the entire situation lies in Europe. That is, if the problem that exists today in Europe, and has existed for many centuries, can be solved and worked out, it could well determine whether or not we have peace for the next several decades.

Italy and France definitely do not want to see a re-armed Germany, but as an alternative, they have the Russian threat on their doorsteps. Russia is definitely playing this situation to the hilt in the international political chess game.

Germany is fast recovering from the ravages of World War II and will, no doubt, continue. People who are returning to this country from social and business visits to the continent, almost without exception, tell me that Germany is showing, by far, the greatest progress of any country on the continent in so far as rehabilitating herself is concerned. Whether or not Germany is re-armed is a matter that is going to have to be faced in the very near future.

You will recall that after World War I and during a period of disarmament, Herman Goering, by the use of gliders, built up the Luftwaffe, one of the most effective Air Forces in the history of mankind. Relatively speaking, this was accomplished in a very short time, when it is compared with the results attained. It was this Air Force that literally knocked out the entire continent of Europe, both east and west of Germany.

If we are to prevent a repetition of the history that has been written during your lifetime and mine, we must face facts, and we must deal with them now. The foreign situation must be strengthened, and it must be strengthened immediately; otherwise, we are going to find ourselves with very few and very weak allies.

Swisher County Electric Co-op Makes Record

No review of the agricultural interests of this section would be complete without mention of the Swisher County Electric Co-operative, Inc., with offices in Tulia at 115 N. Maxwell. This aggressive Co-operative serves a wide area.

It would be hard indeed to imagine, in these modern times, going back to the days when our farms and ranches were without the conveniences of electric lights and power for the many appliances that lessen housework and make it more pleasant.

Since the inception of Swisher County Electric Co-operative, Inc., the constant aim of its officers, directors and management has been to render the best of service at a minimum cost. In this effort they have been highly successful and because of the tireless efforts of those in charge, we have a model electric co-operative whose methods and policies have been studied by other similar organizations with the view of improving their service.

J. W. Miller, president; Clarence Todd, vice-president; O. Milner, secretary-treasurer; J. A. Glenn, Newt Redmon, D. T. Northcutt, Wade Mills, Tom Bostic, George Denny, directors; and O. K. Woodall, manager, are to be complimented for the good job they have done in building the Swisher County Electric Co-operative to its present high level.

These men are rendering a real service to the community and we are glad in this review edition of our paper to point to them with pride — they have always cooperated with every movement that would better the community and we hope for their outstanding organization continued success.

Woodman's Trim Shop Is Leader in Area

Known throughout this entire trade territory for the highest quality in seat covers for automobiles and trucks as well as general auto upholstery and convertible tops, Woodman's Trim Shop, located at 702 Monroe in Amarillo and headed by Jake Woodman, owner, has become a leader throughout the Panhandle area.

They carry a wide selection of seat cover and upholstering materials to choose from, including wool, fiber, cotton and the very latest of plastics in various colors and designs. They are now featuring Nycar, which is a treated rayon, and it is fireproof, shock, proof, water repellent and it is no higher in cost than ordinary priced seat covers. They are always glad to show samples and discuss and demonstrate the value and efficiency of their products.

Woodman's Trim is modernly equipped and their tailor-made seat covers and convertible tops will give your car that "new look" and the cost is most reasonable.

We are pleased to present this reliable and progressive concern and to wish for them many successful years of operation.

"I never have enough closet space!"

How often have you heard that cry? Yet chances are the next woman who utters it has hundreds of useless articles stored in her closets that will eventually find their way to a rummage sale or the scrap heap.

Every one of us is more or less guilty of a passion for "saving" things. The natural-born hoarder hangs on to a collection of old hats, magazines, outdated shoes, medicine bottles and dust-crusted fruit jars that once would have been tucked away in an attic or cellar. Now they lie on the top shelf — or the floor — of a closet in every day use.

The hoarder's instinct for thrift has actually gone astray, for in a sense she substitutes "putting away" for "throwing away." We aren't suggesting that heirlooms, items of historical interest, and other valuables be dumped out wholesale. Nor would we favor disposing of things that have sentimental meaning for any member of the family. These deserve storage space. But old pots and pans, discarded drapes and bed covers, ties, belts and other still useful items, can be given for charity. Even if set out for city trash collection, they might find their way to a revived usefulness. On the closet shelf they'll never help anyone.

Women are by no means the only hoarders, but for them there is a practical angle: They are the ones who have to stable the family possessions, and when an outmoded one comes out, it leaves room for something current. Besides, what spouse will believe her when she says, "I haven't a thing to wear," if her clothes closet bulges with the mistakes of the past five years?

Surely somewhere between the philosophy of the family that has changed residence 14 times in 13 years, and the one that "never expects to move again," there must be a happy compromise!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While RR stands for railroad, in Washington it also stands for Randall Report.

* * *

Many believe Randall Report is attempt to Rail Road through Congress final destruction of U. S. Protective Tariff laws.

* * *

Much fuzzy oratory will be unleashed incorporating economic theories, philosophies, theories on universal brotherhood, perhaps even Yogiism. It will be confusing to follow.

C. W. Harder

* * *

Already confusion has been created. For example, some farm spokesmen claim that tariff abolition will give foreigners dollars needed to buy U. S. farm products.

* * *

Perhaps some facts should be injected into all the fantasy. Between 1940 and 1946, due to war conditions, trade figures mean nothing. But immediate prewar and postwar years in Commerce Dept. records are revealing.

* * *

For example, in 1930 U. S. exported $362,500,000 worth of finished foodstuffs, imported $293,448,000 worth. In same year imports of crude foodstuffs totalled $409,125,000, exports $178,533,000. Even this left a combined trade deficit of $230½ million.

* * *

But that was peanuts compared to what happened when protection wrecking reciprocal trade treaties got underway. By 1935 imports of manufactured foodstuffs totalled $318,828,000, exports $157,211. Crude footstuff imports totalled $322,327,000 and exports dropped to $58,751,000 leaving a trade deficit balance in food of over $400 million.

* * *

At war's end, this trend zoomed. By 1950 finished food imports climbed to $898,423,000 with exports only $602,412,000. Crude foodstuff imports climbed to $1,749,566,000, with exports totalling $759,753,000, leaving a deficit in the balance of trade on foodstuff of $1,285,823,000. In 1952 the deficit was $1,054,493,000.

* * *

It is also evident that large share of lost export farm market is not due to lack of dollars in foreign nations, but rather to their own increased productivity, substantially financed by U. S. aid programs.

* * *

For example, canned and dried fruit exports was once big volume business. In 1935, typical prewar year, 7,700,000 cases of canned fruit were exported. In 1952 exports totalled 2,200,000 cases. In immediate prewar years dried fruit exports averaged 200,300 tons. Postwar exports average 104,900 tons.

* * *

Here are interesting figures.

* * *

In past 10 years foreign orange production has increased 19½%, U. S. increase is less than 3½%. In past 10 years, British Commonwealth alone has increased canned fruit production from 6,212,000 cases to 15,379,000 cases, an increase of 250%.

* * *

Records of 20 years of reciprocal trade treaties show U. S. farmer has in peacetime, suffered by tariff tampering, and has only survived by yoke of price supports and subsidies imposed on necks of all Americans. In meantime, imports of manufactured good produced by cheap labor in foreign plants of U. S. firms has steadily increased.

* * *

So they now say in some Washington quarters that if present tariff wrecking drive succeeds, the Bureau of Indian Affairs should be combined with the Agriculture Department, so that Ezra Benson can be in charge of all the vanishing Americans.

CHANCES ARE BETTER

"Son, if you continue to study hard and be industrious it's within the realm of possibility that your face will some day appear on a hundred dollar bill."

"Thanks, Dad, but I'd prefer to have my hands on one."

THE REASON

A young woman took a job as a governess, then suddenly left it.

Asked why she resigned, she said: "Had to. Backward child, forward father."

HOW TRUE

Boy: "What do you call a man that drives a car?"

Dad: "It depends on just how close he comes to me."

COULD BE

Teacher: "Who was the smartest inventor?"

Pupil: "Thomas A. Edison. He invented the phonograph and radio so people would stay up at night and use his electric lights."

ABOUT 11:30 p. m.

She: "My father takes things apart to see why they don't go."

School Spirit

Have you got that school spirit? Well then, get it! School spirit means loyalty to any cause represented by one's school anytime or anywhere. It is an ideal upheld by the student who desires to make the colors of his school more honorable through study, cooperation, and participation in the various school activities. It means that each student has a part to play, and if he fails to play it, victory that should be won is lost.

This spirit is the attitude you take that makes or breaks your life and your school. You can make your school or you can ruin your school. The standards of your school depend upon your every action, and your personal conduct is what counts.

Perhaps it was through some careless remark that the standard of your school was questioned. It would be no credit to you if your school was not well thought of. The least each can do is to refrain from knocking and start pushing our school to its greatest heights.

Whatever the school is interested in, whether from the point of athletics, social activities, or a better learning situation, always be willing to do your part and boost the morale of our school.

Library Rules

Stop! Think! What room is room 33? That is the library, the room offering the students of CHS a chance to gain knowledge, to find adventure, and to study in a quiet atmosphere.

The liberal use of the library that is afforded to all pupils is a great privilege and should be guarded in like manner.

Regulations of the high school library are:

1. Quiet should prevail at all times.
2. All books should be signed before being taken from the library. Use your own name, never an assumed name or the name of another pupil.
3. Books are to be returned to the library when due.
4. All fines should be paid promptly.
5. All lost books must be replaced or paid for.
6. The encyclopedias and other reference books are to be used in the library and may not be checked out overnight.

Mrs. Nora Gilmore, librarian, is always glad to be of service in the library. The cooperation of students in observing these regulations will aid in directing efficient library service.

Girl's Basketball Off to Good Start

Girls' basketball training at CHS is getting off to a good start this year with 27 prospective members turning out to make a try for the traveling squad.

"The interest and enthusiasm of the girls indicate prospects for a good team, if the three gaps left by losses from the starting six of last year's team can be filled," states Lawrence Brotherton, girls basketball coach and principal of Canyon Grade School.

The first month and a half of training will be spent practicing fundamentals and conditioning with plans for four scrimmage games to be played before football season is over.

New Construction Nears Half-Way Mark

They're going up! The addition to the Canyon High School and the new grade school, that is! The buildings will be completed near December 1st, according to Joe E. Gibson, superintendent of Canyon public schools.

The addition to the high school will include a gym, a new homemaking department and a modern, advanced science lab.

The gymnasium will have a 98x80 basketball court with modern folding bleachers. The bleachers will have a seating capacity of 800 people.

Home games will be played in the new gym, with the exception of the important ones, which will be played in the college fieldhouse as they have been in the past.

The gym will have dressing rooms for both boys and girls.

Near the front entrance to the new grade school will be a large play-room with a large stage, doubling for an auditorium, a cafeteria and kitchen, and principal's and teachers' offices and workrooms.

Three of the four wings will contain six classrooms and the fourth wing will have five. All classrooms will have windows on each side providing bi-lateral lighting and cross-ventilation.

All the students in Canyon Grade School and one second grade and one fourth grade section of W. T. Elementary will move to the new building when construction is completed.

The new grade school, a building of one story, is of a special blend, tan colored brick. The building is situated between 22nd and 23rd Streets and 10th and 12th Avenues. It faces east on 22nd Street, and the playground adjoins the municipal park now in the planning stage.

Matsler Enters Queen Contest

Canyon FHA Chapter has chosen Jackie Matsler to represent them at the "Sweetheart of the Soil Contest" to be held Friday, Sept. 10, in Amarillo.

The winner will be selected on the basis of poise, personality, beauty, and charm and will be given a $100 defense bond or an all expense paid trip to the Texas State Fair.

Entrants to be judged will first appear in western clothes and later in formals.

In order to be eligible to compete for the "Sweetheart of the Soil" title the contestants must meet the following requirements: Be sponsored by a non-commercial organization; be 16 to 20 years of age, and single.

This event is being held at the Homestead Improvement Workshop in conjunction with the Golden Spread Agricultural Council and the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

Term Enrollment Tops Last Year

A total of 315 students have enrolled for the 1954-55 school term in CHS. Twelve new students entered Canyon High for the first time. Enrollment tops last year's first semester by five students.

New students are: Seniors, Jackie Rogers and Loree Wiley, Borger; juniors, Beth Jordon, White Deer; and J. H. Shephard, Carlsbad, N. M., sophomores; Hattie Faye Cates, Hereford, Ina Jo Hughes, Clarendon, and Shirley Jean Wheeler, Midland; freshmen, Larry Byars, Lamesa, Minnie Cates, Hereford, Matilda Ruggles, Temple, James Nation, Amarillo, and Audrey Wayne King, Portales, N. M.

Enrollments show an increase over individual class totals of last year. Class figures are: Freshman, 86; sophomores, 93; juniors, 67; and Seniors, 68.

The senior class of 68 is the largest senior class in the history of CHS. The class of '54 had 61 graduates.

Members Added To CHS Faculty

Three new faculty members have been employed by CHS for the 1954-55 school term.

Mr. Gerald Smith will assist Mr. Herman Demus as band director. Mr. Smith received his masters degree in music from West Texas State College in 1954. Previously Mr. Smith was employed at McLean for three years and had charge of the ROTC band last summer. At present Mr. Smith is assistant band director both at the college and high school.

Dewayne Brandt received his masters degree in speech and education in '51 at West Texas State. Last year Mr. Brandt taught at Horace Mann Junior High in Amarillo and this year has been employed to teach history and speech here. Mr. and Mrs. Brandt have two boys, Barry Wayne, 3, and David Lynn, one month old.

Don Briggs has been employed to assist Guy Harrison, head coach, in the athletic program this year. Mr. Briggs was a four year football letterman for the Buffaloes at West Texas State. He is a '51 graduate of West Texas. Previously Mr. Briggs coached at Wellington, and last year he was mentor for the high school division at the New Mexico Military Institute. Mr. and Mrs. Briggs have two young children, Danny, 3, and Lee Ann, three months old.

Band Honors Fish On Picnic at Park

Bandsters traveled to the canyon near the Douglas Marshall ranch home for a get-acquainted picnic Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 7. Band members went hiking, played baseball, and enjoyed a hilarious marching drill by the freshmen.

Fifty-three happy, tired, and hungry members consumed cold drinks, hot dogs, potato chips, after the day's exploits.

Matsler, Meyer Beauty Entries

The "Sweetheart of the Soil" contest, climaxing the Southwest Farm and Home Show at PanTech Farms was held Friday night at 8 p. m.

Norma Lynn Stitt was chosen Sweetheart, with Charlene Barnard rating second. Both girls are from Amarillo. All other contestants were named third place winners.

Jackie Matsler, a contestant in the "Sweetheart of the Soil" contest, was sponsored by the Canyon High School FHA chapter. Jackie, 16, is a junior in Canyon High and the granddaughter of Rev. Win R. Matsler.

Helene Meyer, 17, also a contestant in the contest was sponsored by the Pleasant-Jo 4-H Club.

Contestants were presented first in western clothes and second in formal dress. They stepped from individual convertibles on a spotlighted open-air stage.

Winner of the contest received $100 plus a $100 dollar award for the club sponsoring the contestant.

Bob Lindsey of Borger, and Frank Helvey of Amarillo, cochairmen of the contest, made arrangements for additional awards including a gift for each contestant.

Ruth Ann Berg, Sweetheart of last year, and her successor were presented at 7:30 p. m. Saturday on Cotton John's Farm and Home Show on KGNC-TV.

Classes Elect New Sponsors, Officers

Class sponsors were elected in the first of a series of class meetings for annual elections held on September 7 and 8 in the Canyon High School auditorium.

The senior class unanimously chose to retain sponsors from the junior year, Waylon Carroll and Mrs. Dan Sanders. The junior class elected T. L. Devin, the sophomore class choice was Don Briggs, and Sidney Burgess will be the freshmen sponsor.

Due to a lack of time all officers and co-sponsor elections were not completed. A list covering all newly elected officers, room parents, sponsors, and co-sponsors will be published later.

Eagles Trample Cowboys, 40-0

The Canyon Eagles downed the Happy Cowboys 40-0 Friday night at Happy. It was an enthusiastic game, started off by a corridor made of the band and students attending the game.

The band played the Fight Song as the boys rushed onto the field.

R. A. Burgess, with good backing from the squad, ran four of the six touchdowns, and Jamie Airhart kicked four extra points in six attempts.

Leroy Burrow and Ronnie Ratliff scored the other two touchdowns for Canyon. The Eagles scored twice in each of the first, second, and fourth quarters. Jim Golden, Canyon quarterback, ran a 60-yard touchdown, but it was called back because of a penalty in the third quarter.

Briggs, Class Presidents, Girls Plan Noontime Activity Program

In response to the growing need for noon activities in which many students of CHS can participate, Coach Don Briggs, the class presidents, and a girl representative from each class met in room 19 on September 9 to plan a tentative program.

The program, which is competitive in nature, has been established to create an interest for both onlooker as well as competitor, and has as its goal the attraction of a large group of the student body.

Student representatives suggested to Coach Briggs various activities among which are checkers, washers, horseshoes, basketball, volleyball, table tennis, softball, badminton, shuffle board, tennis and track.

The committee also decided the noon activities would be competitive, be on a class basis, and would lead to a championship award.

In skeleton outline form, the noon activities program is to be run in the following manner. The various games are to be played according to seasonal interests. In the fall months the games will be washers, checkers, and horseshoes, in the winter months, basketball, volleyball, badminton, and checkers. In the spring there will be table tennis, shuffle board and softball.

Individuals winning points will give them to their own class. At the end of the year a plaque will be presented to the class winning the championship.

Choirs Organize Under Miss Clark

"We're getting off to a very good start," says Miss Ada V. Clark, choir director of CHS.

There are two girls' choruses and four girls' ensemble groups organized for this school year. The girls' choruses are third and fifth periods. The third period group has 29 members, and the fifth period group has 28 members. There is a junior ensemble, sophomore ensemble, and two junior and senior mixed ensemble groups.

Miss Clark says the girls have good reading ability. They read parts well and have nice balance.

The ensemble groups have chosen the music they will be working on during the first part of the school year. New music for the choir has been ordered by the director.

Fanita Marshall and Mary Sue Bolton will be playing the piano accompaniment for the fifth period choir, and Alice Simms and Diane Prichard will accompany the third period choir.

Just Between You, Me . . .

Frank Kimbrough, head coach of the West Texas State College football team, is wearing a confident smile these days. Could be that the coach sees a colorful season ahead for the Rambling Herd play their first game of the season Saturday night in Buffalo Stadium. In case you haven't heard already, the game is with McMurry and should be a thrilling one to start the season off.

Speaking of football brings to mind Coach Guy Harrison's victory at Happy Friday night. The Eagles really romped over the Cowboys this year. It was one of the most resounding defeats the Cowboys have suffered at the hands of the Eagles in several years. All of the Eagles' easy games seem to come at the first of the season and that makes the last games really difficult. It would sure be nice if our flock of Eagles could continue the season with just a little bit of the kind of success that they had a whole lot of at Happy Friday.

If there is anyone who hasn't fully realized that fall and football are here, he or she should make it a point to get on the highway Friday evening. The sight of school busses and cars loaded with enthusiastic youngsters along with proud and smiling adults sort of gives a person a lift. The colorful pageantry of fall and football are a part of the greatest joys of life. If you don't share in this joy you're really missing a wonderful part of life and the excitement of the accomplishments of the younger generation.

There's an old gag about doctors burying their mistakes. Sometimes a person in the newspaper business would sort of like to bury his but he can't. All his mistakes are flagrantly before the public where everyone can see them, and they usually do too.

We learned something about chinchillas recently. Mrs. Ethel Mullins is raising them now and from all outward appearances her work with them can grow into quite an industry. According to one of the pamphlets we saw the chinchillas have a very colorful history. The animal is a native of South America. They lived high in the mountains there and enjoyed the cool climate. But the chinchilla is a very defenseless animal and has a very valuable and heavy fur. This situation created a great demand for chinchilla fur and the defenseless animals were all but annihilated.

Some of the thoughtful sportsmen began to take stock of the chinchilla situation and realized the vast danger of losing the little animals. They also realized the value of keeping some of the chinchilla on earth so they started raising them under domesticated conditions. Today they are still raising the chinchillas simply for replenishing the rapidly dwindling supply. Only a few chinchillas are being sold for their fur. But if more people begin raising them and we soon get a big supply, all the housewives with several thousand dollars of loose change laying about the house, can have a chinchilla fur coat. If you can swing one of these deals you may even get ahead of the Joneses.

Noticed that Laura Smith was back at work at the City Hall Saturday. She looked pretty good in spite of the fact that she has been having some very bothersome wisdom tooth trouble recently.
